No worries, unfortunately they are grouped together here in Qld. Completely understand why you don't want to use the combined figure for the story though.

Looks like Victoria has quite a lot of info! Super interesting to see the top smoke producing makes.

Okay, thank you.

I the other issue is that because smoke and noise are grouped together, it misrepresents data on smoky vehicles if we group that in to our story on smoky vehicle reports. You'll see here in our story today that we've been specific with 'smoky vehicle' reports. I don't want to group in noise reports with smoke reports, because that would be inaccurate.

Thank you for sending us the data. It's interesting that all the state and territory bodies are quite different in their reporting.

Kind regards,

Amy

Oh no, here is a screenshot:

But yes, that's pretty much spot on 2297 is when the driver wilfully makes the wheels lose traction and spin.

291 Making unnecessary noise or smoke

- (1) A person must not—
 - (a) start a vehicle, or drive a vehicle, in a way that makes unnecessary noise or smoke; or
 - (b) wilfully start a vehicle, or drive a vehicle, in a way that makes unnecessary noise or smoke.

Maximum penalty—20 penalty units.

Example for paragraph (a)- driving a vehicle in a way that causes noise or smoke because of-

- (a) disrepair of the vehicle; or
- (b) the way the vehicle is loaded; or
- (c) the condition, construction or adjustment of the vehicle's engine or other equipment

Example for paragraph (b)-

driving a vehicle in a way that causes noise or smoke by wilfully and unnecessarily causing the wheels of the vehicle to lose traction and spin on the road surface

Note-

An offence against paragraph (b) is an offence mentioned in the Police Powers and Responsibilities Act 2000, section 69A(1)(a)(iv).

(2) A person must not drive a vehicle to which a noisy instrument is attached or on which a noisy instrument is used.

Maximum penalty—20 penalty units.

- (3) The driver of a vehicle or a passenger in or on the vehicle must not—
 - (a) ring a bell or sound a horn, except a horn or similar warning device under section 224; or
 - (b) play or use a noisy instrument.

Maximum penalty-20 penalty units.

Hi there – sorry that link does not work for me.

RTI - 1034 - File²1 - Page 2 of 15

I'm just trying to clarify the difference between the two categories. For example, if category 2297 for example is because someone is driving intentionally to create smoke, for doing something like a burnout? I don't want to misrepresent the figures.

Amy

Hi Amy,

The difference between the two is that they relate to two different road rules, so infringements are given under a different code.

Here is a link which has an example describing the difference between the two: https://legislation.govnet.qld.gov.au/view/html/inforce/current/sl-2009-0194#sec.291

The first row, 2296 is example (a) and the second row, 2297 is example (b).

Hope that makes sense!

Kind regards,

Abbie Ramos

Thanks very much Abbie.

Is there much of a difference between the two offences you have listed? Amy

Hi Amy and Hermant,

Lucy has asked us for some infringement stats, last week. We have these stats now, but I see she is away until next week and you are the contacts on her out of office message.

So we thought we'd forward these to you.

Please see the data below, as well as the story thread for context.

Have a great day!

Hope you're having a great week.

Please see the stats you requested below.

Thanks!

Response (Please attribute to a Transport and Main Roads spokesperson):

Number of infringement notices issued for smoky vehicle offences, financial years 2015-16 to 2017-18 and 1 July 2018 to 31 May 2019

Offence Code	Offence Description	2015-16	2016-17	2017-18	1 July 2018 to 31 May 2019

Please note

Data extracted on 03/09/2019 and is subject to change

Data Analysis (DA) allows a 3 month lag for extracting and providing offence data. This allows for completeness of data and time for the offence notice to be forwarded from Queensland Police Service (QPS) to Transport and Main Roads (TMR) for entering into the system. The 3 month lag includes the 28 day period for the alleged offender to pay or respond to the offence notice. Some offence categories will still be understated due to the prolonged time it takes for these matters to be finalised (e.g. Drink Driving offences).

Hi Lucy,

The data will have to be extracted again, and the usual turn-around time of seven working days will apply.

Are you happy to wait for this extra infringement data?

Kind regards,

Abbie Ramos

Hi Abbie,

Thanks - I did see your email from last week. I was actually after the number of notices issued each year for the past four financial years as a result of the reports.

Other states have provided two different figures, as there is often multiple reports for a single car.

Could you please assist?

Our deadline is COB tomorrow.

Thanks,

Lucy

Hi Lucy,

You may have missed our email/the system may have let us down, but we sent through some advice last week – please see attached.

Unfortunately we are not able to advise the make/models of vehicles reported for emitting excessive smoke. This is because vehicle type/model is not captured in our stats.

Kind regards,

Abbie Ramos

Hi Lucy,

Thanks for sending your questions through to us.

We are looking into this now.

This is the national statistics website I was talking about over the phone: https://www.bitre.gov.au/statistics/safety/ but it mainly covers road safety statistics.

Kind regards,

Abbie Ramos

Hi Stacey,

Thanks for sending through the figures.

Could you please also provide a breakdown of vehicles types for the smoky emissions reports?

The Vic EPA has provided us with a breakdown on 2018/19 reports by make and model and we would like to include all states to create a national picture.

Secondly, Is there a national body which collates the data from across the states and territories? Could you please provide contact details.

Our deadline is Wednesday AM please.

Thanks and Regards,

Lucy Kent

Subject: re Media enquiry - ABC News - excessive smoke for vehicles

Hi Lucy

Please find following a response to your enquiry.

Response (Please attribute to a Transport and Main Roads spokesperson):

We have been encouraging Queenslanders to report smoky vehicles for several years because smoky exhausts contribute to air pollution and can distract drivers.

In the 2018-19 financial year, we received 3169 reports of vehicles emitting excessive smoke. There were 2203 reports in the 2017-18 financial year and 1806 vehicles reported in the 2016-17 financial year. We do not record vehicle types, including make and model.

Anyone who sees a vehicle blowing smoke continuously for 10 seconds or more, can report the vehicle by submitting a smoky vehicle report form via the Transport and Main Roads website.

Once a vehicle is identified, a letter is sent to the owner explaining the vehicle was reported, along with suggestions on fixing the problem.

If the vehicle is reported three times within four months of the first sighting, the owner is issued with a Present Vehicle Order (PVO) for the vehicle to be checked for defects by a TMR Transport Inspector.

Background

There are simple steps you can take to make sure your vehicle's emission levels are as low as possible.

For more information and tips on reducing vehicle emission levels visit www.tmr.qld.gov.au and search for smoky vehicles.

The Queensland Police Service (QPS) is responsible for enforcement.

Thanks

Subject: Media request - ABC News - excessive smoke for vehicles

Dear Media unit,

I am working on a consumer affairs story about cars blowing excessive white smoke.

I am seeking information about the following:

- 1. How many reports of excessive smoke from a vehicle (car) has the QLD Department of Environment and Science received in the last financial year?
- 2. How does this compare to previous years?
- 3. Is there a breakdown of the type (make/model) available?

The deadline for the story is early next week but if you are able to send through some info by the end of tomorrow, it would much appreciated.

Thanks and Regards,

Lucy Kent Producer, Specialist Reporting Team
